Below are some excellent web resources for academic writing...

Writing Concern	Resource	Link	Especially great for….
Gramar	Purdue Online Writing Lab	http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/section/1/5/	Looking at examples and non-examples of good grammar. Provides handouts and worksheets.
Punctuation	Purdue Online Writing Lab	http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/692/01/	Looking at examples and non-examples of good punctuation. With PowerPoint and handout materials.
Thesis	Purdue Online Writing Lab	http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/545/01/	A short, concise treatment of how to craft a thesis in different types of papers (e.g. analytical, expository, argumentative)
The Writing Process	UVIC Writing Centre's Pyramid of Writing Concerns	http://ltc.uvic.ca/servicesprograms/documents/TWCWritingPyramid.pdf	Identifying the different components and concerns in the writing process, determining which ones are most important

Research concern	Resource	Link	Especially great for…
The Research Process	UVic's Resesarch Help pages	http://library.uvic.ca/research/index.html	Videos, subject guides and handouts for a range of interdisciplinary research concerns.
The Research Process	UVic's Research Help pages	http://library.uvic.ca/instruction/workshops/index.html	A calendar overview of library workshops.

 You can also direct students to the Library Help Desk, where subject librarians can demonstrate how to conduct appropriate keyword searches, how to navigate subject-specific search engines, and how to set parameters for literature searches. Style Guides are also available for short-term loan at the Help Desk.